

Randi Motz: A Bride's Surprise

I joined Westwinds by way of The Accidentals, which was at one time an alumni group of members from the Stampede Band. Westwinds asked The Accidentals to be the top-level band, and at the end of the year members had to decide if they wanted to continue with Westwinds. The Accidentals wanted to keep playing as a separate group. However, I chose to stay with Westwinds and began to play in the jazz group when it was offered.

I now play alto sax in Monday Gold Jazz. In May of 2001, the band played for our dance when my husband Marvin and I got married. What a surprise for everyone who came! The next surprise was the bride sitting in on the first song, playing her saxophone. A fun, fun night it was for all who came!
